

Athlete Information Notice

Use of personal information

FIH aim is to protect the privacy and the fundamental rights related to personal and sensitive data of those persons who get in any manner in contact with the International Hockey Federation as well as those who communicate in any manner with FIH but not limited to providing his/her personal data or any other sensitive data.

Your personal data are controlled and processed by FIH, who is committed to protect and respect your privacy. For any personal data you provide for the purposes of FIH's activities, FIH is responsible for storing and otherwise processing that data in a fair, lawful, secure and transparent way. FIH collects personal data of its athletes, officials, national associations or anyone else whose personal data is processed by FIH.

What personal data we hold on you

You may give us information about you by filling in forms at an event or online or by corresponding with us by phone, email or otherwise. This includes information you provide when you register with your national association. The information you give us may include your name, date of birth, passport/id number, nationality, post or email address, phone number, bank account details, social media accounts, sporting affiliation with which you are registered and gender for the purposes of the FIH activities. You should be aware of any special category of data you may be processing that are sensitive such as relevant health information, TUE information, information regarding athletes' samples, genetic and biometric information or other personal sensitive data in the context of Anti-Doping activities.

Why we need your personal data

The reason we need your personal data is to be able to administer your affiliation to FIH and provide the membership services you are signing up to when you register with your national association. We also need your personal data to register with event organisers for the participation in hockey events, for marketing purposes and promotional activities. Our lawful basis for processing your personal data is that we have a contractual obligation to you as an athlete, affiliated to your national association, and member of FIH to provide the services you are registering for as well as for competition entry.

Your rights regarding your personal data

As a data subject, you have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing of your Personal Data at any time.

To the extent required by applicable law and subject to legal limitations, as a data subject, you may have the right at any time to be informed, to request access to rectification or erasure of your personal data; to restrict, to be forgotten or object to certain kinds of processing of your personal data, including direct marketing; to the portability of your personal data and to complain to FIH at dataprivacy@fih.ch.

International Transfer

FIH's activities are international and by registering with FIH, you acknowledge and agree that FIH may transmit your personal data to other entities of FIH, or its subcontractors, including outside Switzerland or European Union. We will ensure that the receiving entity has agreed to keep your data confidential, and secure, outside of your country of residence. If the level of privacy protection in a country does not comply with internationally recognized standards, we will ensure that data transfers to databases in that country are equally protected and that a transfer of data to third parties in such countries does not occur. FIH reserves the right to release your personal data if FIH is required under law to do so, or in the good-faith believes that such release is necessary to comply with applicable legislation.

Information sharing and disclosure

FIH may send personally identifiable information about you to other companies or people when:

- We have your consent to share the information;
- We need to share your information to provide the product or service you have requested;
- We provide the information to companies who work on behalf of FIH under confidentiality agreements;
- We respond to subpoenas, court orders or legal process;
- We believe it is necessary, as determined in our sole discretion, to investigate, prevent, or take action regarding illegal activities, suspected fraud, emergency situations involving potential threats to the physical safety of any person, violations of FIH's Policy Statement, or as otherwise required by law.

Children's privacy

FIH is concerned about the safety and privacy of all its athletes, particularly children. We do not knowingly collect personal data from children under the age of 16 or knowingly allow such persons to provide us with their personal information without verifiable parent or guardian consent.

FIH does not take specific steps to protect the privacy of children who disclose their personal data to FIH.

Data retention

FIH will retain your personal data only as long as necessary and needed for the purposes of the FIH activities. In regards to personal information used for Anti-Doping activities, personal data can be retained until ten years or indefinitely depending on the category of data. Personal data may be kept for a longer period of time exclusively for mere statistical purposes and FIH shall use anonymous data wherever possible.

Security of your personal data

FIH shall, at all times, protect athletes' Personal Information by applying all necessary security safeguards, including physical, organisational, technical, environmental and other measures to prevent the loss, theft or unauthorised access, destruction, use, modification or disclosure (including disclosure made via electronic network) of the Personal Information.
